Jarvis Green Wine Wizard Master of Ceremonies

Jarvis Green, Wine Wizard Master of Ceremonies 2011!

Jarvis Green, defensive lineman for the Houston Texans, has come a long way from his roots in the small town of Donaldsonville, LA. The former LSU construction engineering major virtually runs through his opponents on the field, racking up sacks and causing fumbles. In fact, he's been named Defensive Player of the Week numerous times throughout his career. Further, he's helped his team achieve an 18-0 record for the 2007-2008 season. However, despite playing an integral part in his team's winning 3 Super Bowls since being signed in the fourth round of the 2002 NFL draft, when the pads and helmet come off, he remains humble.

A staunch servant to the less fortunate, Green founded was awarded the New England Patriots Ron Burton Community Service Award in 2006 and founded the Jarvis Green Foundation in 2007 to provide support to single working mothers in disadvantaged, low-income areas (i.e., Hurricane Katrina single mothers). The Foundation's first event was a September 2007 wine tasting and silent auction, which raised money for single mothers affected by Hurricane Katrina. Partial proceeds also went into a trust fund he started for Ma'shy Hill, the toddler son of his fallen friend and teammate, Marquise Hill. Since his friend's untimely passing, Jarvis has stepped in as a surrogate father to the boy. The midseason release of "60 Minute Men" T-shirts- which not only captured the Patriots' "Play all 60 minutes of the game, no matter what" philosophy and further honored Hill with a small insignia of his jersey number, but also helped raise more money for Ma'shy's trust fund- was another effort of the Jarvis Green Foundation.

As if that's all those activities and his family doesn't keep his calendar full enough, he still takes time to communicate individually with fans- from his hometown and throughout the country- via his personal Facebook (www.facebook.com/jarvisgreen) and Twitter pages (@JGBayousFinest).

Through his commitment for serving the disadvantaged, Jarvis gained a passion for wine and holds wine tasting events to support the Jarvis Green Foundation. Join Jarvis at Wine & Food Week 2011, June 6-12.

H-E-B Wine Walk at Market Street

About Wine & Food Week

The 7th Annual Wine & Food Week is the largest, most comprehensive epicurean and wine adventure from Aspen to New Orleans, bringing together renowned chefs from all over the U.S. to showcase their culinary expertise partnered with more than 500 wines at more than 40 sensational events. Held June 6-10, 2011, in locations throughout the Houston area.

Live chef demonstrations, hands-on classes and a wine auction are but a few of the exceptional offerings. Music, entertainment, shopping and wine education seminars for the novice to the enthusiast top off the week of casual to fine wine and dine experiences.

The Big Events include:

H-E-B Wine Walk @ Market Street, a taste and stroll experience in a European-style retail and lifestyle center featuring wine and light bites at more than 40 tasting stations.

Wine Rendezvous Grand Tasting & TEXAS MONTHLY Chef Showcase is the ultimate adult evening where guests sample delectable cuisine and hundreds of wines as chefs representing more than 50 restaurants compete for Wine & Food Week's Waterford Crystal Chef of Chefs Award and a $5,000+ prize package. To complete the evening, the epicurean experience culminates with the "Just Desserts" contest presented by My Table, a confectionary competition to crown the night's dessert extraordinaire.

Along with the expected Wine & Dine dinners and luncheons, Wine & Food Week attendees may choose from favorites such as The Ladies of the Vine Luncheon, It's a Guy's Thing, Wines on the Waterway tours on climate-controlled water taxis, Frosted Party & Fashion Show – Sip, Sparkle & Shine, as well as Sips, Suds & Sliders, an evening packed with craft beer, value wines and southern chefs offering their best slider to win the "Shining Slider" award.

Major sponsors of Wine & Food Week include H-E-B, Capital One Bank, Waterford Crystal, Continental Airlines, TEXAS MONTHLY, My Table, The Woodlands Convention & Visitors Bureau, Alouette Cheese, KRIV-TV, FOX 26 News and 107.5 FM The Eagle Radio.

Wine & Food Week events and auctions benefit the culinary arts program at Houston Community College Systems, the Signature Series Literacy efforts of The John Cooper School, and Swing for a Cure. Most of the 40+ events are held at venues in The Woodlands, with unique experiences throughout Houston.
